Strengthening our world-class superannuation system

“Lifting the SG to 12 per cent will ensure the long-term sustainability of our system.”

I am pleased to present the 2019/20 ASFA annual report on behalf of the Board. The past financial year represents one of the most challenging periods that the modern world has faced, and the superannuation industry has not been spared.

The coronavirus pandemic has profoundly disrupted the rhythms of daily life, both professionally and personally, and had severe economic consequences for the national accounts, economic growth and employment, not to mention increased volatility in investment markets.

In the face of these extraordinary shocks, the superannuation industry played an important role in providing stability for markets and reassurance for individual Australians through the delivery of the Government’s temporary early release of superannuation measure. Whether this was the best scheme for victims of the economic repercussions of COVID-19 is open to debate, but there is no question that when called on, our world-class system was able to deliver in difficult circumstances and within a very tight deadline.

Drawing down on private superannuation savings, however, will have long-term impacts especially for individuals but also for the broader economy. To minimise the negative impact on the retirement balances of those who tapped into their superannuation, it is essential that the Government adopt measures to help these individuals rebuild their balances as quickly as possible.

This is one of the reasons there should be widespread support for the legislated increase in the compulsory superannuation guarantee (SG) to 12 per cent. This will not only be beneficial for individuals. Superannuation and its patient capital underpins our economy, investing heavily in productivity-boosting assets that are vital as we navigate our way out of this economic crisis.

Lifting the SG to 12 per cent will ensure the long-term sustainability of our system. Evidence from around the world tells us that only systems that require everyone to contribute, that are compulsory and universal, will be strong enough to do the heavy lifting for an ageing population and allow the pension to be kept for those who need it most.

The central pillars of compulsion and universality are the reason our superannuation system is so admired around the world. Without those fundamental elements, the system would not be able to deliver on its promise of providing all Australians with a dignified retirement.

We must continue to stay the course with our aspirations for a system that provides numerous and broad benefits – for the Australian government, the Australian economy and most importantly for the broader Australian population. Especially in these anxious times, where the impending impact of unemployment and the economic downturn create strong headwinds for long-term retirement outcomes.

I look forward to working with the ASFA Board to bring forward the evidence-based, hard thinking that will allow us to engage all our stakeholders, ensuring we are responsive at all times to the expectations and the standards that the community expects of us.

Superannuation delivers in moment of crisis

“The critical role that superannuation funds have played in the crisis is testimony to the importance of deep pools of responsible, patient capital invested at scale.”

In the decades to come, 2020 will be regarded as a critical inflection point in the evolution and maturing of Australia’s superannuation system. The year began with funds grappling with the fall-out from Protecting Your Super (PYS), Putting Members Interest First (PMIF) and other legislation. Very quickly however, superannuation funds were mobilising to support working Australians in financial hardship and provide capital to sustain industry and support the recovery.

Even before the announcement, ASFA and its members were working with Treasury, the ATO, RBA, ASIC and APRA to address the myriad challenges presented by the Government’s early release scheme. While media and public scrutiny was on early release, funds were providing desperately needed liquidity and support to capital markets. Superannuation funds participated in ASX capital raisings, injected additional funding into the infrastructure, energy, property, and other assets they held directly and provided support to credit and bond markets. As iconic Australian companies came to the ASX for capital raisings, Australia’s superannuation funds delivered. Superannuation stepped up and leaned in, in the moment of crisis.

For individual fund members, the volatility in capital markets around the world was a further test of the system’s resilience. With strong liquidity management, effective hedging and diversified asset allocations, fund members were protected from the worst ravages of the dislocation in asset prices. By the end of the financial year in June, the vast majority of members in APRA-regulated superannuation funds had survived with their retirement savings intact and secure.

The critical role that superannuation funds have played in the crisis is testimony to the importance of deep pools of responsible, patient capital invested at scale. Managed by investment professionals under the governance of committed trustees, superannuation funds could take a long-term view on assets and investment decisions and bridge the temporary dislocation in prices for the long-term benefit of fund members and the economy. With the Government balance sheet deployed to support fiscal stimulus, superannuation can play a complimentary role in building back and accelerating the transitions which the COVID-19 crisis has brought to our cities, our health infrastructure, our work, and the wider environment.

As we wait for the Government to release the Retirement Income Review it is important that the stabilising role of superannuation is recognised. The superannuation system can be improved but this must be done in a considered and measured manner. A misguided short-term focus on system fees and efficiency borne of political expediency, risks undermining our ability to withstand future shocks and risks impoverishing all of us in the long term.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members of all the policy sub-committees, working groups, and our broader membership who helped us as we grappled with early release and many other policy changes during the year. I look forward to working with you over the coming year to advocate for strong, robust and sustainable retirement outcomes.

Who is ASFA?

The Association of Superannuation Funds of Australia (ASFA) is the peak policy, research and advocacy body for Australia's superannuation industry. We have been operating for 58 years and represent all sectors of the industry – retail funds, industry funds, corporate funds, public offer funds and service providers to the industry.

As a not-for-profit, non-political organisation, ASFA is ideally positioned to work closely and credibly with politicians, regulators and the media.

We don't advocate one sector's interests over the other. Rather we analyse the system as a whole and focus on developing policy that enhances the financial security and retirement income of all Australians and builds the credibility of the industry as a whole.

Our vision

To ensure all Australians are financially confident about their retirement.

Our mission

To continuously improve the super system, so all Australians can enjoy a comfortable and dignified retirement.

Our purpose

To help achieve the best retirement outcomes for members of superannuation funds through the development of good public policy and industry best practice.

Securing better policy outcomes with evidence-based advocacy

The ASFA policy team had a full agenda throughout the course of 2019/20, helping shape better policy outcomes and industry practice on behalf of its members and the Australian public.

The team lodged 29 policy and technical submissions, prepared six research papers, a Best Practice Paper, and consulted widely with members through Policy Councils, Advisory Committees and working groups.

Advocacy focus

With the Productivity Commission and Royal Commission both leading to a range of measures being either legislated or foreshadowed, along with intense regulator scrutiny and public debate about the role of superannuation, it was a challenging year for superannuation.

A number of COVID-19 related policy changes also were put in place, including special early release provisions for superannuation. APRA also substantially increased reporting requirements for funds.

The ASFA Policy team played an active role in advocating on superannuation legislation and policy directly with members of Parliament and via appearances before Parliamentary Committees.

The ASFA team emphasised to Committee members that “People don’t want to have the lifestyle of their parents or grandparents in retirement; they expect and deserve more, and that’s what superannuation is delivering”.

Advocacy efforts spanned multiple issues throughout the 2019/20 financial year, including:

- the importance of increasing the Superannuation Guarantee to 12 per cent, as legislated, in delivering a comfortable and dignified retirement

- the practical implementation of the Royal Commission recommendations relevant to superannuation, focusing on ways of ensuring that fund members truly benefit
- the crucial role of insurance in superannuation given that it is the only form of life and disability insurance that most people have
- the role of superannuation investments in supporting business activity and employment in the Australian economy and in supporting liquidity and stability in Australian financial markets
- the need for early release procedures to be as efficient as possible while at the same time protecting against the risk of fraud through the ATO properly assessing the identity and eligibility of applicants

ASFA at the House of Representatives Economics Committee hearing held on 22 November 2019.

A key advocacy focus was the importance of lifting the Superannuation Guarantee to 12 per cent

- the need for APRA's powers and assessment of member outcomes to truly reflect the interests of fund members
- expressing a range of concerns with the proposed Protecting Your Super and Putting Members' Interests First measures, such as the need for a dangerous occupation exemption and for elections for insurance to be maintained under PYS to be recognised for PMIF
- the need for the design of the SG compliance and amnesty proposals to balance the needs of both employees and employers.

COVID-19

Given the impact of COVID-19 related challenges, the ASFA Policy team advocated for changes to the timetable for implementing policy changes, such as the Royal Commission recommendations for superannuation. A change in timing was necessary so that funds could focus on measures that delivered clear benefits to fund members during this difficult period, such as the processing of millions of early release claims and dealing with the investment challenges flowing from volatile markets. The Government announced a six-month deferral to implementing the Royal Commission recommendations.

ASFA published weekly economic analysis of the emerging impacts of the pandemic. This analysis examined both local and global impacts as well as reporting on government policy measures supporting economic activity and employment. The Economic Insights videos made available to ASFA members took a deeper dive into issues addressed in the weekly analysis.

Retirement income adequacy and increasing the SG to 12 per cent

Australia has a retirement income system that is the envy of most countries in the world but despite this fact, some organisations and individuals have undertaken misleading analysis to 'talk the system down'.

ASFA provided evidence pointing to the success of the Australian system and how moving the SG (Superannuation Guarantee) to 12 per cent is necessary for more people to achieve the standard of living in retirement they want and deserve.

The evidence provided by ASFA, included in a June 2020 Research Paper, also pointed to the positive role played by investment by superannuation funds in the economy and the role collective investments by superannuation funds will play in recovery from the COVID-19 downturn in economic activity.

Retirement Income Review

ASFA prepared two submissions for the Review, including one on the benefits of the compulsory system. The submissions focussed on how compulsory superannuation is improving adequacy of retirement incomes, reducing Age Pension expenditures and providing capital for Australian businesses and investment.

The ASFA Board and Secretariat met with Retirement Income Review panel members, and ASFA was also involved in a research workshop conducted by the Review secretariat.

“As well as taking pressure off the Commonwealth’s finances, compulsory superannuation has broader positive impacts on the Australian economy”

– Key finding from ‘The Benefits of Australia’s Compulsory Superannuation System’ research paper released June 2020.

'Protecting Your Super' and 'Putting Members' Interests First'

ASFA expressed a range of concerns with the proposed measures and the commencement date for the changes.

This advocacy led to a 1 April 2020 start date (revised from 1 October 2019) for the 'Putting Members' Interests First' legislation.

Royal Commission into banking, superannuation and financial services

ASFA prepared submissions in regard to draft legislation seeking to implement a range of Royal Commission recommendations. In particular, attention was given to avoiding unintended consequences, and also the need to deliver benefits to fund members from any changes. ASFA also met with Treasury in regard to a number of the recommendations.

Policy and technical submissions

ASFA made 29 policy and technical submissions during 2019/20. Some of the key issues addressed included:

- questions raised in the Retirement Income Review Consultation Paper and the positive role played by superannuation in retirement incomes and in the economy
- ASFA proposals for the 2020/21 Budget
- Royal Commission recommendations on strengthening breach reporting; enforceability of financial services industry codes; no hawking of financial products; and strengthening regulators
- Royal Commission recommendations on regulator roles; the Financial Regulator Oversight Authority; ASIC directions power; and establishing a Compensation Scheme of Last Resort
- the implementation of the Financial Accountability Regime (FAR)
- advice fee consents
- financial Regulator Coordination and Information Sharing
- APRA's Superannuation Data Transformation project
- making insurance claims handling a financial service
- remuneration requirements for APRA-regulated entities
- financial Institutions Supervisory Levies methodology
- internal dispute resolution
- financing Build-To-Rent housing.

Research and reports

The ASFA Policy team produced six reports during 2019/20 to help shape policy and demonstrate that our superannuation system is working exceptionally well in terms of providing current and prospective benefits to fund members and the economy more generally.

1	Experience to date with the early release of superannuation
2	The benefits of Australia's compulsory superannuation system
3	Implementing the Protecting Your Super and Putting Members' Interests First changes
4	Investments in the retirement phase
5	Snapshot of account balances
6	Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) Factors in a Superannuation Context

Impact of advocacy efforts

Consistent with ASFA’s recommendations, the government or regulators adopted the following positions and/or amended legislation.

✓ Exemption and deferrals

Exemption and deferrals of certain Royal Commission recommendations

Successfully advocated for an exemption to the Royal Commission’s recommendation on “No other role or office” for investment vehicles, such as managed investment schemes, special purpose vehicles and pooled superannuation trusts, that are only open to members of the registrable superannuation entity.

Successfully advocated for the deferral of the implementation of certain Royal Commission recommendations due to the impacts of COVID-19.

✓ CGT relief

CGT relief for super mergers

Capital gains tax relief for merging superannuation funds is now permanent.

✓ Introduction

Introduction of voluntary transfers to ATO

Successfully advocated for voluntary transfers to be able to be made to the ATO given Eligible Rollover Funds are to cease.

✓ Changes

Changes to APRA Pandemic Data Collection

As a result of ASFA advocacy various changes were made to the data collection, including commencement date, the methodology by which due dates were determined and changes to some data items.

✓ Amendment

Amendment to PMIF legislation for successor fund transfers

Successfully advocated for the Government to amend the Putting Members’ Interests First legislation to recognise members’ decisions about their insurance when their account is transferred through a successor fund transfer (SFT).

✓ Extension

Extended lead time for Internal Dispute Resolution changes

ASFA recommendations led to an extended lead time for substantial changes to Internal Dispute Resolution (IDR) standards and recognition of the challenges of complex superannuation complaints.

We also achieved further consideration of proposed IDR reporting requirements.

✓ Clarification

Clarification and process improvements around early release

Successfully advocated for APRA clarifying trustee responsibilities in regard to early release, for adoption of a new rule by AUSTRAC providing that funds do not have to undertake additional due diligence when the ATO has approved a payment. We also supported ASIC’s decision to expand the coverage of intra-fund advice to cover advice around early release. All of these provided significant relief for funds and administrators.

Achieved a deferral from the ATO for the scheduled statement day and payment day for unclaimed superannuation monies which also assisted early release processes.

Helping members manage complex regulatory change

ASFA-ASP Services' unique collaboration model, which brings superannuation administrators, software providers and regulators together to co-design complex regulatory change programs, served members extremely well during another year of transformational change.

Four substantial regulatory programs needed to be implemented quickly and efficiently during the 2019/20 financial year; Protecting Your Super, Putting Members Interests' First, AusKey migration to myGovID and Early Release of Super.

The extent and pace of change introduced during 2019/20 was perhaps the biggest ever and left little to no time for consultation or preparation. This challenging environment affected everyone in the industry, introduced risk, additional cost and the potential to negatively impact the superannuation fund member experience.

By collaborating with key stakeholders to identify the most efficient and effective way to implement these regulatory changes, ASFA-ASP Services played a lead role in bettering outcomes for ASFA members and superannuation members alike.

Strong partnerships improve outcomes for members

ASFA-ASP Services' partnership with the Australian Taxation Office (ATO), which has been developed over the past 10 years, continues to be very strong and productive in bettering outcomes for ASFA members and superannuation fund members alike.

Members of ASFA-ASP Services saw tangible benefits of early engagement in co-designing solutions with the ATO in response to these reforms, specifically:

- greater certainty as quickly as possible
- early insights for informed interpretation and decision making
- immediate access to, and collaboration with, like-minded practitioners
- reduced risk and cost and greater efficiency

- fraud mitigation through information sharing
- better experience for superannuation members.

Our partnership with Services Australia (formerly Department of Human Services) also continues to develop strongly. ASFA-ASP Services' members report superannuation account balances to Services Australia twice a year, and as a result of collaboration through workshops, data quality has improved significantly resulting in an improved member experience. Services Australia has reported considerable positive impact to their clients as a result of the collaboration.

ASFA-ASP Services works closely with the Gateway Network Governance Body to ensure superannuation data is transacted efficiently through the super ecosystem. ASFA is a co-sponsor member in relation to the GNGB's role in managing the integrity, security and effectiveness of the Superannuation Transaction Network through a Memorandum of Understanding made with Gateway Operators in the superannuation industry.

"It's great that ASFA is keeping professional development during these times. It should also consider running events in this format post COVID-19 as it is a convenient way to attend them."

Breaking new ground

Living up to its name as the premier superannuation event, the 2019 ASFA Conference provided new, innovative content and attracted the attention of mainstream media.

The 2019 ASFA Conference was another huge event with more than 1,700 participants taking part including delegates, exhibitors, sponsors, speakers, chairs, staff, and media. Over 40 international delegates participated in the Conference representing 11 countries; Canada, China, Germany, Tonga, Hong Kong, New Zealand, PNG, Singapore, Tuvalu, UK and USA.

Held at the Melbourne Convention Centre from 13-15 November, the Conference allowed delegates to explore the five big forces impacting superannuation— culture, change, compliance, customer and competition. An outstanding line-up of high calibre local and international experts prompted meaningful discussion around how to make Australia’s retirement system even better. One of the most highly anticipated keynotes was delivered by APRA’s Helen Rowell, who chose to unveil APRA’s new heat maps at the ASFA Conference. Founder of the Kindness Factory, Kath Koschel, delivered an inspiring story about the power of kindness and also made an appearance on Channel Ten’s The Project from the Conference.

Bringing in the voice of the member

A series of videos featuring superannuation fund members were shown throughout the conference to bring their voices into the room at the 2019 ASFA Conference.

These videos featured real fund members responding to questions about their superannuation, retirement, investments and insurance. Many conference delegates asked for a copy of the video to show their teams when they got back to the office after the event.

Program innovation

With 34 sessions, including keynotes, parallels, and workshops, there truly was something for everyone at the 2019 ASFA Conference. This included three new learning formats designed to deliver even greater levels of engagement and audience interaction.

The three new learning formats introduced for the first time this year were:

- Dialogue in the Dark – a session run by Guide Dogs Victoria
- LEGO® SERIOUS PLAY®
- Out of the Blue – a theatre production on mental health and suicide awareness.

Highest ever overall satisfaction

The overall satisfaction rating for the 2019 ASFA Conference was 97%, the highest score of any other ASFA Conference. Achieving this result is a testament to the quality of the content and experience delivered at the conference.

The 2019 ASFA Conference featured ‘Remember the member’ videos.

Minimising disruption to critical workplace learning

ASFA Learning’s extensive online training solutions meant that superannuation funds did not have to press pause on critical learning despite needing to move to remote working.

Decades of experience in superannuation, training, education, and compliance, as well as a strong strategic focus developing agile digital products, allowed ASFA Learning to provide a best-in-class learning experience throughout a challenging period that called for a quick response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Strong online learning capabilities

A highlight of 2019/20 was the ability of ASFA Learning to continue providing courses and workshops to the industry without disruption despite COVID-19 lock downs.

This was due to the scope of our existing online offering with all courses (excluding Masterclass) already being offered in an e-learning format, SuperCPD being an existing online CPD solution, and our capability to transition existing workshops quickly and smoothly into ‘virtual workshops’.

Virtual workshops were conducted as an interactive, live learning experience, where participants could engage with industry-leading presenters and their peers just like they would at a face-to-face workshop.

Ongoing updates and enhancements

ASFA Learning also continued to update, enhance and expand its portfolio of courses, nationally recognised qualifications, and professional development solutions throughout 2019/20, ensuring members continued to have access to relevant industry-focused learning solutions. During the 2019/20 year, several new virtual workshop offerings were launched; Investment governance, Managing privacy obligations during COVID-19, Claims handling in times of crisis, Super industry update.

ASFA Learning continued to invest in its digital e-learning offering with three new e-learning products launched; Certificate IV in Financial Services, Super complaints handling and Factual information vs financial product advice.

The investment in expanding our offering, together with our focus on revising and refreshing existing courses, highlight our commitment to raising the skills and standards of superannuation professionals across all levels of the industry.

Rigorously challenging superannuation's critics

In 2019/20, ASFA continued to influence national policy debate about Australia's retirement system, with government and regulators, and to raise awareness of the benefits of our compulsory superannuation system for individual retirement outcomes and the broader national economy.

ASFA maintained its strong level of audience engagement, with thousands of ASFA news and opinion stories appearing across print, digital, radio and television media outlets.

When COVID-19 hit in March, ASFA accelerated efforts to advocate for the important role superannuation is playing in providing critical long-term capital necessary for Australia's post-pandemic economic recovery.

Key media achievements

- Raising awareness of the unintended consequences of the COVID-19 early release stimulus scheme.
- Rigorous evidenced-based advocacy for the legislated rise in the Super Guarantee to 12%.
- Advocating for greater transparency around the MARIA modelling at the heart of the Retirement Income Review.
- Publishing the quarterly ASFA Retirement Standard as a cost of living guide for individuals and couples.
- Consumer outreach with Australians in regional and remote areas to share tips on boosting retirement balances.
- Contrasting the success of Australia's retirement system against OECD peers.
- Raising awareness around superannuation as a long term investment vehicle.

Social media

ASFA increased its social media presence in 2019/20, using LinkedIn and Twitter to amplify its media and policy advocacy. By creating compelling video content and driving conversations with evidenced-based research, ASFA reported higher levels of engagement and a marked rise in social media followers.

ASFA doubled its social media impressions at the 2019 ASFA Conference in November, achieving 115,000 impressions across the three-day event, supported by the amplification of keynote speaker video clips.

2019/20 Board changes

There were several changes to the composition of the ASFA Board during the 2019/20 financial year. These changes are listed below.

- The appointment of Andrew Boal in November 2019.
- The departure of Linda Elkins in November 2019.

DIRECTORS

The following persons were the Directors of the Company at any time during or since the end of the current financial year to the date of this report:

- Andrew Boal (appointed 14 November 2019)
- Jo-Anne Bloch
- Peter Carrigy-Ryan (resigned 13 July 2020)
- Michael Clancy
- Chris Davies
- Michael Easson
- David Elia
- Linda Elkins (resigned 8 November 2019)
- Melinda Howes
- Damian Hill (appointed 13 July 2020)
- John McMurtrie (resigned 14 November 2019)
- Kelly Power (appointed 14 November 2019)
- Deanne Stewart
- Leeanne Turner

Further details are included elsewhere in this annual report.

The Board consists of one independent chair and two directors from each of the following membership categories: Industry Funds, Corporate Funds, Public Sector Funds, Retail Funds and Service Providers.

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES

ASFA is the peak policy, research and advocacy body for Australia's superannuation industry. It is a not-for-profit, sector-neutral, and non-party political national organisation whose aim is to advance effective retirement outcomes for members of funds through research, advocacy and the development of policy and industry best practice. There was no significant change in the nature of those activities during the year. Further details of the Company's activities during the year are contained elsewhere in this report. At this time, the directors are not aware of any developments likely to cause a significant change in the nature of the Company's activities.

REVIEW OF OPERATIONS AND RESULTS

The surplus of income over expenditure for the year amounted to $132 (2019, deficit $193,187), which resulted in an increase in the accumulated surplus from $4,553,486 to $4,553,620.

ASFA adopted new accounting standards AASB15: Revenue from contracts with customers and AASB16: Leases from 1 July 2019. The adoption of these two new accounting standards have resulted in a net expense of $108,826 to comprehensive income for the year.

The adoption of new accounting standard AASB16: Leases, in recognising Right-of-use Lease Asset and Liability from existing office lease also reduced opening Retained Earnings as at 1 July 2019 by $203,009.

SIGNIFICANT CHANGES IN THE STATE OF AFFAIRS

The focus for ASFA Board and leadership team in Quarter 4 of FY20, outside usual business activities, has been on managing the impacts of COVID-19. ASFA implemented appropriate COVID-19 hygiene measures in the office and provided staff more flexibility to work from home. The health and safety of our staff and members remains a priority for ASFA.

ASFA has increased its online events and workshop offerings during Quarter 4 of FY20 when no physical events were held. As a result, there is no significant reduction of learning revenue compared to budget in Quarter 4 of FY20.

ASFA applied for and received JobKeeper subsidy of $351,000 in Quarter 4 of FY20. ASFA also expects to satisfy the criteria for JobKeeper subsidy in Quarter 1 of FY21.

On 22 July 2020, ASFA announced change of ASFA Conference dates from November 2020 to February 2021. ASFA Board and leadership team will continue to monitor the public health situation and evaluate the impact to ASFA Conference.

There have been no other significant changes in the state of affairs of the Company during the course of the year.

MATTERS SUBSEQUENT TO THE END OF THE FINANCIAL YEAR

The directors are not aware of any other matters or circumstances not otherwise dealt with in the directors' report or financial report that has significantly or may significantly affect the operations of the company, the results of these operations or the state of affairs of the company in subsequent financial years.

LIKELY DEVELOPMENTS AND EXPECTED RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The directors consider that the company will continue its principal activities being the promotion of the interests of ASFA members and the education of ASFA members generally in superannuation matters.

ENVIRONMENTAL REGULATION

The company is subject to normal State and Federal environmental legislation and does not operate within an industry with specific environmental guidelines or limits. To the best of the directors' knowledge, there have been no breaches of environmental legislation.

STRATEGY, OBJECTIVES AND MEASURING PERFORMANCE

ASFA's mission is to provide effective retirement outcomes for members of funds through research and advocacy and to serve ASFA members by providing a range of services.

ASFA has four critical success factors. Under each critical success factor it has two strategic themes for the 2020 financial year.

- Plan for industry change and consolidation

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE STATEMENT

The directors are responsible to the ASFA members for the performance of the company in both the short and the longer term and seek to balance these sometimes competing objectives in the best interests of the company as a whole. Their focus is to ensure the company is properly managed, to protect, promote and advance the interests of Australia's superannuation funds, their trustees and their members. The board draws on relevant corporate governance best practice principles to assist it to contribute to the performance of the company.

Day to day management of the company's affairs and implementation of corporate strategy and policy initiatives are delegated by the board to the Chief Executive Officer and management team.

The functions of the board include:

- setting corporate strategies
- review and approval of the annual budget and financial plans
- overseeing and monitoring organisational performance and the achievement of the company's strategic goals and objectives
- monitoring financial performance including approval of the annual and quarterly financial reports and liaison with the company's auditors
- appointment of, setting the remuneration of, and assessment of the performance of, the Chief Executive Officer
- ensuring there are effective management processes in place and approving major corporate initiatives that arise throughout the year
- ensuring the significant risks facing the company have been identified and appropriate and adequate control, monitoring and reporting mechanisms are in place.

A description of the company's main corporate governance practices is set out herewith. All these practices, unless otherwise stated, were in place for the entire year.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The board operates in accordance with the broad principles set out in the company's constitution including that:

- the board is comprised of non-executive directors. Further information about the directors is set out in the directors' report under the heading "Information on directors"
- the Chair of the board is elected by the full board and meets regularly with the Chief Executive Officer
- there is a mix of directors on the board from different sectoral backgrounds as required under the Constitution with complementary skills and experience.

The board has established a number of committees to assist in the execution of its duties and to allow detailed consideration of complex issues. Current committees of the board are Finance and Risk, Human Resources and Remuneration, Member Services, and Policy.

All four committees include directors. The committee structure and membership is reviewed on an annual basis.

Each of these committees has its own written charter setting out its role and responsibilities and the manner in which the committee is to operate. All substantial matters determined by committees are submitted to the full board as recommendations for board decision.

The company's Constitution specifies that all directors must retire from office no later than the second annual general meeting (AGM) following their last election. Where eligible, a director may stand for re-election.

COMMITMENT

The board meets at least on a quarterly basis during the year. Additional corporate strategy workshops are also scheduled on a biennial basis (with the timing appropriate to other significant external events).

The number of meetings of the company's board of directors and of each board committee held during the year and the number of meetings attended by each director is disclosed elsewhere in this report.

CONFLICT OF INTERESTS

All directors are regarded as independent. The company defines "independent" as independent of the executive management.

INDEPENDENT PROFESSIONAL ADVICE

Directors and board committees have the right, in connection with their duties and responsibilities, to seek independent professional advice at the company's expense. Prior written approval of the Chair is required, but this will not be unreasonably withheld.

REMUNERATION

A Human Resources and Remuneration committee (comprising three directors including the Chair and Chair of the Finance and Risk Committee) has also been established to make specific decisions on remuneration packages and other terms of employment for senior executives.

Remuneration packages are set at levels that are intended to attract and retain executives capable of managing the company's diverse operations and achieving the company's strategic objectives.

The Chief Executive Officer is responsible for keeping the Chair informed of all relevant issues associated with management succession planning, including the implementation of appropriate executive development programmes and ensuring adequate arrangements are in place, so that appropriate candidates are recruited for later promotion to senior positions.

Non-executive directors

Dr Easson received a chairman's fee of $100,000 for the period of 01 July 2019 to 30 June 2020 ($100,000 for the period of 1 July 2018 to 30 June 2019).

No fees were paid to other directors of the company.

AUDIT

The oversight of this function is included in the responsibilities of the Finance & Risk Committee.

The other main responsibilities of the Finance & Risk committee are to:

- provide recommendations and advice to the board on the financial management of ASFA
- review in detail the annual Budget as prepared by the Secretariat to ensure its financial soundness and adequacy in providing services to the ASFA members as determined by the Board
- review in detail the management accounts prepared periodically by the Secretariat including reports against Budget and Cash Flow analysis
- review in detail the Balance Sheet as prepared periodically by the Secretariat to ensure that it is financially sound and that adequate reserves are being maintained to meet recorded and possible future liabilities to ensure continuity of activity
- review the treasury management by the Secretariat to ensure the safe and timely investment of surplus funds
- identify and manage risk through ensuring the establishment and review of the effectiveness of internal control systems
- oversee compliance by ASFA with appropriate laws and regulations
- oversee compliance with ASFA Reserving Policy, Financial Delegation and Approval Policy and Cash and Financial Management Policy
- appoint the external auditors and oversee the audit process
- oversee the effective operation of the risk management framework

In fulfilling its responsibilities, the committee receives regular reports from management and the external auditors. It also meets with the external auditors at least once a year – more frequently if necessary and reviews any significant disagreements between the auditors and management, irrespective of whether they have been resolved. The external auditors have a clear line of direct communication at any time to either the Chair of the committee or the Chair of the board. It is the policy of the external auditors to provide an annual declaration of their independence to the committee.

DIRECTORS' BENEFITS

For the year ended 30 June 2020, no director of the company has, since the end of the previous financial year, received or become entitled to receive a benefit by reason of a contract made by the company and the director, a firm of which the director is a member or an entity in which the director has a substantial financial interest, with the exception of the benefits that may be deemed to have arisen in relation to transactions entered into in the ordinary course of business.

INSURANCE OF OFFICERS

The company's constitution provides indemnities for directors and officers of the company and its related bodies corporate against all liabilities to other persons (other than the company and its related bodies corporate) which arises out of the performance of their normal duties as directors or officers of the company unless the liability relates to conduct involving a lack of good faith. The indemnity provided by the company to its directors and officers extends to the payment of all costs and expenses incurred in defending an action that falls within the scope of the indemnity. The company is only liable to indemnify a director or officer to the extent that the director's or officer's liability is not covered by a policy of insurance taken out by the company.

During the financial year the company paid insurance premiums totalling $7,800 (2019: $7,800) in respect of directors' and officers' liability insurance. The policy does not specify the premium for individual directors and officers.

The directors' and officers' liability insurance provides cover against all costs and expenses involved in defending legal actions and any resulting payments arising from a liability incurred by the company's directors and officers to other persons where that liability was incurred by the director or officer in their position as a director or officer unless the conduct involved a wilful breach of duty or fiduciary obligation.

CONSTITUTION

In accordance with the Constitution, every member of the company undertakes to contribute to the property of the company in the event of the company being wound up while they are a member or within one year after they cease to be a member, for payment of the debts and liabilities of the company (contracted before they cease to be a member) and of the costs, charges and expenses of winding up and for the adjustment of the rights of the contributories among themselves, such amount as may be required, but not exceeding twenty dollars ($20) per member ($6,720 in total, $8,680 in 2019).

Notes to and Forming Part of the Financial Report

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2020

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

This financial report covers the Association of Superannuation Funds of Australia Limited as an individual entity and is presented in Australian currency.

The Association of Superannuation Funds of Australia Limited (the company) is a company limited by guarantee. In accordance with the Constitution, every member of the company undertakes to contribute to the property of the company in the event of the company being wound up while they are a member or within one year after they cease to be a member, for payment of the debts and liabilities of the company (contracted before they cease to be a member) and of the costs, charges and expenses of winding up and for the adjustment of the rights of the contributories among themselves, such amount as may be required, but not exceeding twenty dollars ($20) per member (2020: $6,720 in total, 2019: $8,680 in total). The financial statements were authorised for issue by the directors on 20 August 2020. The directors of the company have the power to amend and reissue the financial report.

The operations of the Company are conducted in Australia only.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial report are set out below. These principles have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

This is the first set of the Company's annual financial statements in which AASB 16: Leases, AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB 1058 Income of Not-for-Profit Entities has been applied. Under the transition methods chosen, comparative information has not been restated. The 2020 results are therefore not directly comparable to prior years. Changes to significant accounting policies and the impact of applying new standards is described somewhere later in the note.

a) Basis of preparation

This general-purpose financial report has been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards, other authoritative pronouncements of the Australian Accounting Standards Board and the Corporations Act 2001.

Compliance with IFRSs

The financial report of the company also complies with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB).

Historical cost convention

These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and unless otherwise stated do not take into account current valuation of non-current assets.

Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Australian Accounting Standards requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates.

The notes to the financial statement set out areas involving higher degree of judgement or complexity such as:

- Revenue – refer to note 1(d)
- Leases – refer to note 1(m)
- Impairment – management uses judgement on whether assets are impaired

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including reasonable expectations of future events. Management believes the estimates used in preparing this financial report are reasonable.

COVID-19 impact

Background:

COVID-19 is a new virus that causes a respiratory infection and was declared a worldwide pandemic by the World Health Organization in March 2020. The virus had a significant impact on the global and Australian economy. ASFA has considered the impact of COVID-19 in preparing its financial statements. The impact of pandemic resulted in changes to the preparation of these financial statements, changes to management judgements and outcomes that have been used in the measurement of the Company's financial position and comprehensive income.

Processes applied:

As consequence of the pandemic and in the preparation of these financial statements' management:

- evaluated whether any additional areas of management judgement existed in the preparation of the financial statements
- assessed the impact of the pandemic on impairment of assets
- applied accounting requirements under AASB 120: Accounting for Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance. Government Grants in recognising any government related subsidies due to the pandemic. ASFA received JobKeeper subsidy of $351,000 and PAYG rebate $75,000, both are accounted for as other income under AASB 120: Accounting for Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance. There are no other unfulfilled conditions or other contingencies attached to these subsidies.
- considered impact of COVID-19 on Company's disclosures in its Financial Statement note disclosures
- applied a number of operational changes including working from home policies and social distancing practices
- re-evaluated risk plans to ensure they adequately cover pandemic risk elements
- tested business continuity plan to ensure operation continuity during pandemic

b) Plant and equipment

Plant and equipment are depreciated over their expected useful lives to the company using the straight-line method. The expected useful lives are 3 to 5 years.

The cost of improvements to leasehold properties is amortised over the unexpired period of the lease.

Gains and losses on disposal are determined by comparing proceeds with the carrying amount and are included in the statement of comprehensive income. The expected useful life of leasehold improvements is 10 years.

Furniture and fittings are depreciated over 5 years.

Where Government Grants have been secured to purchase plant and equipment, they are brought to account in the balance sheet as deferred income and amortised over the same period that the plant and equipment is being depreciated.

c) Capitalised software

Capitalised software is depreciated over its expected useful lives by the company using the straight-line method. The expected useful lives are 3 to 5 years.

Capitalised software commences being depreciated once the software is applied within the company.

d) Revenue recognition

AASB 15: Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB 1058: Income for Not-for-profit Entities, which establishes a comprehensive framework for determining whether, how much and when revenue is recognised and is mandatory for the Company's 2020 financial statements.

There has been no impact on the historical financial statements from the adoption of AASB 15: Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB 1058: Income of Not-for-Profit Entities.

Under AASB 15: Revenue from Contracts with Customers, revenue is recognised using the 5 steps approach outlined below to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services.

The following 5 steps have been applied in analysing transactions to determine when revenue is recognised:

- Step 1 – Identify the contract with a customer.
- Step 2 – Identify the separate performance obligations in the contract.
- Step 3 – Determine the transaction price.
- Step 4 – Allocate the transaction price to the separate performance obligations in the contract.
- Step 5 – Recognise revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

The recognition of online-spaced online qualification revenue has been impacted by the new approach outlined above. These fees were previously recognised on the date of admission. Upon adoption of AASB 15, these fees are deferred and recognised over the period in which it is estimated that the online training services will be provided. Historical data has been used to arrive at these estimates.

The recognition of conference/event sponsorship revenue has also been impacted by the new approach. The conference sponsorship revenue was previously recognised at the date of the conference/event was held. Upon adoption of AASB 15, as some components of the sponsorship agreement was delivered before the conference/event takes place, the related portion of the sponsorship revenue will be recognised at the time those obligations are performed. For FY20, amounts related to this adjustment were immaterial, so this did not impact revenue recognised during the year.

The adoption of AASB 15: Revenues from Contracts with Customers did not have any other impact on the measurement or timing of revenue recognition on other revenue from contracts with customers.

(i) Conference/Events registration revenues
Performance obligation of the Conference/Events registration are satisfied at the time conference/event takes place and Conference/events registration revenues are recognised accordingly at the time.

(ii) Workshop revenues
Income and expenditure arising from the workshop is brought to account in the same period as the workshop is delivered. There were no performance obligations related to the revenue established which takes place after learning workshops are delivered.

(iii) Membership revenues
Annual membership period commences on 1 July and ends on 30 June and all performance obligations are satisfied by the end of the financial year. Hence full annual membership fees are recognised on a straight-line basis during the financial year.

Other revenues are recognised in the period to which they relate on an accrual basis.

e) Receivables

Receivable amounts are generally received within 30 days of being recorded as receivables. Collectability of trade receivables is reviewed on an ongoing basis. An impairment allowance account (doubtful debts provision) is used when there is objective evidence that the Company will not be able to collect all amounts due according to the original terms of the receivables based on an assessment of past events, current conditions and future economic conditions. The allowance considers a range of possible outcomes and their probability of occurring. Significant financial difficulties of the debtor, probability that the debtor will enter bankruptcy or financial reorganisation, default or delinquency in payments (more than 30 days overdue) and negative forecasts of future economic conditions are considered indicators that the trade receivable is impaired. Bad debts are written off during the period in which they are identified.

The amount of impairment loss (bad debt) is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income within other expenses. When a trade receivable for which an impairment allowance had been recognised becomes uncollectable in a subsequent period, it is written off against the allowance account. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited against other expenses in the statement of comprehensive income

f) Employee benefits

(i) Wages and salaries and annual leave

Liabilities for wages and salaries and annual leave in respect of employees' services up to the reporting date are measured at the amount expected to be paid when the liabilities are to be settled.

(ii) Long service leave

A liability for long service leave is recognised and is measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date. Consideration is given to the expected future wage and salary levels, experience of employee departures and periods of service. Expected future payments are discounted using market yields at 30 June 2020 on national government bonds with terms to maturity that match as closely as possible the estimated future cash outflows.

g) Income tax

The company is exempted from income tax.

h) Foreign currency translation

(i) Functional and Presentation Currency

Items included in the financial statements of the company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the company operates ('the functional currency'). The functional currency is Australian Dollars (AUD).

(ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

i) Cash

For the purposes of the statement of Cash Flows, cash includes deposits at call, which are readily convertible to cash on hand and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, net of outstanding bank overdrafts.

In the Cash Flow statement, the term deposits which have the maturity greater than three months are included in cash but they are separately identified as Term Deposits item in Balance Sheet.

j) Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided prior to the end of the financial year and which are unpaid. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within 30 days of recognition.

k) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of associated GST, unless the GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority. In this case it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense.

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included with other receivables or payables in the balance sheet.

Cash flows are presented on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities, which are recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority, are presented as operating cash flows.

l) New accounting standards and interpretations

The Company adopted AASB15: Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB16: Leases for the first time for their annual reporting period commencing 1 July 2019. Details are contained in Note 1(d) and Note 1(m) respectively.

m) Leases

The Company has adopted AASB 16: Leases from 1 July 2019 using the modified retrospective approach and electing to measure the Right-of-use asset equal to the Right-of-use liability at the date of adoption, less any portion of the Right-of-use asset that was reclassified to lease receivables. Therefore, the comparative information presented for 2019 is not restated.

In the comparative period, under AASB116: Leases, ASFA only needed to recognise lease assets and lease liabilities in relation to leases classified as 'finance leases' of which ASFA had none in year ended 30 June 2019.

Under AASB16: Leases, ASFA's operating leases with a term of more than 12 months, unless the underlying asset is of low value, is recognised on the balance sheet as "Right-of-use Asset" and "Lease Liability". The depreciation of the Right-of-use asset and interest on lease liability will replace the previous straight lining of rent expense practice.

Financial Statement impacts

Impact on transition

As a result of the change in accounting policy, ASFA recognised the following transition adjustment: ASFA recognised a Right-of-use asset of $3,615,305 and a lease liability of $4,185,293 on the Balance Sheet as at 30 June 2020 and depreciation expense of $570,837 and interest expense of $112,253 instead of rent expense for the period then ended. The leases payments previously classified as operating cash outflows have now been split with the principal payments of $518,475 and the interest payments of $112,253 presented as a financing outflow.

n) Government grants

Grants from the government are recognised at their fair value as a receivable where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and ASFA will comply with all attached conditions. The grant is recognised as other income in the period it becomes receivable.

3. REVENUE FROM CONTRACTS WITH CUSTOMERS

a) Disaggregation of revenue

ASFA derives its revenue from the transfer of services over time and at a point in time. The following table provides a breakdown of revenue by the timing of when performance obligations are satisfied and by major business line.

For the period ended 30 June 2020	Services satisfied at a point in time	Services satisfied over time	Total
Conference and events registration (2019 Conference)	5,404,069	-	5,404,069

18. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including interest rate risks and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's overall risk management program seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Company. The Company uses different methods to measure different types of risk to which it is exposed. These methods include monitoring of the investment and banking arrangements and ageing analysis for credit risk.

Risk management is carried out by management with oversight by the Finance and Risk Committee. The Finance and Risk Committee reviews and updates the risk management register annually covering specific areas.

The Company holds the following financial instruments:

	2020 $	2019 $
Financial assets
Cash and cash equivalents	6,627,473	5,426,832
Trade and other Receivables	1,935,959	3,419,523
Total Financial Assets	8,563,432	8,846,355
Financial liabilities
Trade and other payables	(1,065,981)	(1,428,013)
Total Financial Liabilities	(1,065,981)	(1,428,013)

The carrying amounts of trade receivables and payables approximate their fair values due to their short-term nature.

Fair value measurements

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities must be estimated for recognition and measurement for disclosure purposes.

Market risk

Price risk

Market price risk is the risk that the value of an instrument will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices, whether caused by factors specific to an individual investment, the issuer of that investment or all factors affecting all financial instruments traded in the market.

ASFA does not hold any investments subject to price risk.

Interest rate risk

The Company's main interest rate risk arises from cash and cash equivalents and distributions from investments, which expose it to risks associated with the effects of fluctuations in market interest rates. The Company monitors the level of cash maintained and the impact of changes in interest rates on expected levels of return.

Based on the balance as at 30 June 2020, if the interest rates had changed by +/- 100 basis points from the year end rates with all other variables held constant, the operating surplus would have been $91,904 lower/higher (2019: +/- 100 basis points - $83,853 higher/lower surplus) as a result of lower/higher interest income from these financial assets.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that another party to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation or commitment it has entered into with the Company.

Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, deposits with banks and financial institutions and trade receivables. There is no independent rating of financial assets. The company assesses the credit quality of the customer, taking into account its financial position, past experience and other factors. Invoices are required to be settled within trading terms and the aged debtors are closely monitored.

The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date is the carrying amount of receivables and term deposits (refer Note 5 and 6, respectively).

Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities, the availability of funding through an adequate amount of credit facilities and the ability to close out market positions. The Company manages liquidity risk by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows and matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities. The financial liabilities are predominantly due within 1 month.

19. EVENTS OCCURRING AFTER THE REPORTING PERIOD

There are no matters or circumstances that have arisen since the end of the financial year not otherwise dealt with in the financial report, which significantly affected or may significantly affect the operation of the Company, the result or the state of affairs.
